

COVID-19 Safety Statement and Cancellation Policy:

The health and safety of 29th Annual Perspectives in Urology: Point Counterpoint meeting attendees, faculty and staff is a top priority, and we continue to monitor updates from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and applicable state and local health authorities on the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. Along with the facility hosting this meeting, we are committed to providing a safe environment and to implementing all appropriate health and safety measures. Please visit Coronado Island Marriott <https://clean.marriott.com> to view information on the special safety measures being taken by the facility hosting this meeting.

Based on the current guidance from the CDC and other applicable health authorities, we intend to host this meeting as a live, in-person event. We recognize that changing conditions could result in new guidance or restrictions from governmental authorities on travel, meeting sizes, or other factors that make hosting this event impossible or impracticable. In that case, we will convert this meeting into a virtual meeting, featuring a scientific program similar to the one that was planned for the live event, and offering registrants opportunities for virtual networking and interactivity. Should Carden Jennings convert this meeting from a live event to a virtual event, we will refund registrants an amount equal to 50% of their paid registration fees, which is the estimated portion of the registration fees designed to cover food, beverage and social event expenses. Please refer to this website for any status updates.

We recommend that you review the "Conference Registration and Attendance Terms and Conditions" agreement for other important information and policies related to this meeting.
